HIGH SCHOOL BONDS CARRY 3 TO 1 JURY FINDS JOE MARCADO GUILTY OF MURDER

Bond Issue of $885,000
Carries When All But 4
Precincts Vote Favorably

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS AS WELL AS HIGH SCHOOL TO BENEFIT FROM BONDS VOTED

Carrying all except four out of nineteen precincts in the district the High School Bond Issue of $885,000 won by an overwhelming majority yesterday.

A light vote was cast, less than one third of the qualified voters in the district going to the polls. The total vote cast was 2,812, of these 2,156 were cast in favor, 655 against and one vote was disqualified.

With the total vote cast 1,875 favorable votes were necessary for the two third majority which is required by law. The favorable vote exceeded this necessary amount by 281, carrying the bonds more than 3 to 1.

The four precincts which went against the bonds were: No. 2 which is located at Point Richmond with the polling place at the Masonic Temple Association Building; No. 3 also located at Point Richmond with the polling places at the Washington Schoolhouse; No. 11 located in the southern part of the city with the polling place at the Richmond Fire Hall No. 4, 3506 Cutting Boulevard; No. 16, at Pinole with the polling place at the Pinole-Hercules Schoolhouse.

Practically every section of Richmond and El Cerrito will benefit from the bond issue in a tentative building program which has been laid out by the board of education.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO ISSUE BOOZE WARRANTS

The Federal grand jury is expected to issue secret warrants shortly involving a number of Eastbay men in the alleged Emeryville bootleg ring, according to Harold Charlton, chief of the field forces of the prohibition office, who is conducting an exclusive investigation in Emeryville.

It was hinted that some of the most experienced investigators of the office have been working exclusively in Emeryville since the discovery there last week of one of the largest liquor caches ever found in the bay region.

He admitted frankly that the evidence gathered by his men was of a startling nature and that a number of Eastbay men would be involved in the grand jury probe. He would fix no definite time when he expected the evidence would be presented to the jury, but intimated that it would be before the close of the week.

Mayor Walter H. Christie of Emeryville yesterday came forward with the declaration that Emeryville has to suffer for the other cities of the bay region. He stated that during 1924 only five of the persons arrested for liquor law violations, were residents of the city before the first of that year.

Supervisors Are Informed by Jury On Resignation

SAN JOSE, Oct. 6.—Formal notification on the board of supervisors that the grand jury demands the resignation of Charles P. Cooley of Palo Alto, supervisor of the fifth district, as on "unfit, improper, incompetent person unworthy to hold public office," was made by Edward A. Cohen, foreman of the Santa Clara county grand jury, at the meeting of the supervisors yesterday.

Last Saturday the grand jury filed a partial report with the Superior Court in which Cooley is accused of conspiring with certain parties to defraud the county of Santa Clara of public funds and with other financial irregularities.

Cooley, who was present at the meeting yesterday, remarked: "I am not surprised, neither am I disappointed."

The notice filed with the board was accepted and placed on file pending action by the district attorney. The latter stated today that no action will be taken by his office until the report of the grand jury has been thoroughly investigated and the district attorney's office determines what it can do in regard to the grand jury's recommendations.

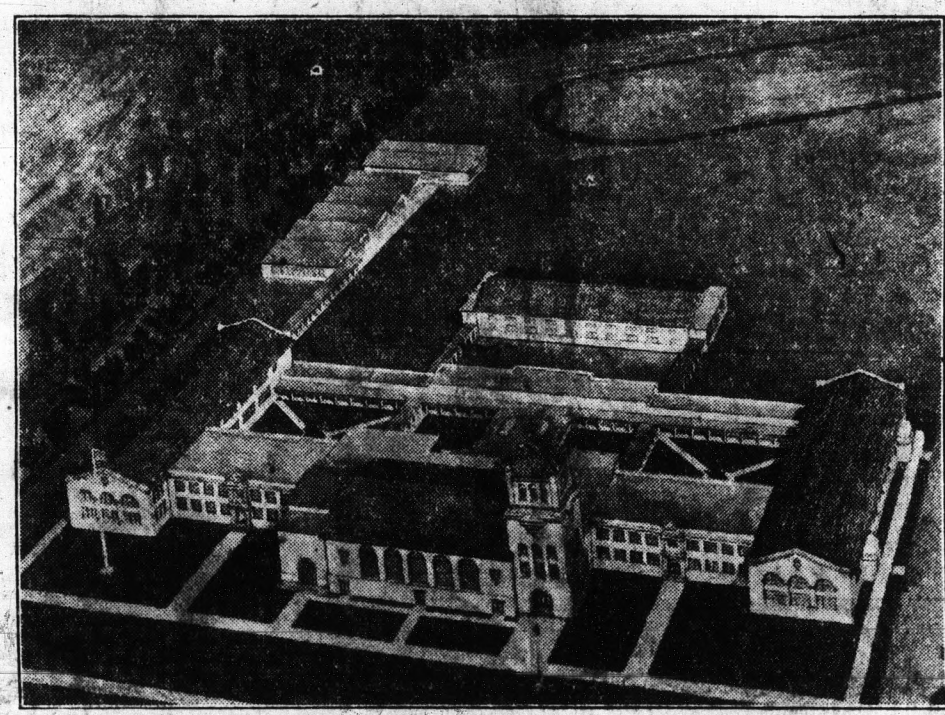

TIMMONS FILES SUIT ON BOND

R. W. Timmons yesterday filed suit in Justice court against A. Turkovich and John Bernabich, seeking to collect the sum of $175.95 and costs, amount alleged due on a surety bond.

Timmons obtained a judgment against George Caljack for $205.75 in Justice John Roth's court. The case was appealed, but the Superior Court at Martinez upheld Justice Roth's decision. At the time of the appeal, Turkovich and Bernabich put up a surety bond of $500 for Caljack.

After the case was upheld in Superior court, Caljack is alleged to have refused to pay the judgment, and the defendants in the present suit have refused to make good the surety, with the exception of $59 paid by Turkovich.

Proposed New Union High School

The proposed new Richmond Union High School which became a certainty last night when the bond issue of $885,000 carried. The new structure will include an auditorium, administration department, class rooms, laboratories, shops, a gymnasium and a cafeteria. The track and athletic field is shown in the rear.

HELMS PLEASED WITH SUCCESS OF THE BONDS

Walter T. Helms, superintendent of Richmond schools when informed last night that the high school bond issue had carried expressed himself highly gratified and issued the following statement:

"Of course, I am very much gratified that the bonds carried because I am in a position to know the needs of the district. This will enable us to keep pace with our school needs. I believe the success of the bonds is due entirely to those people who were well acquainted with the school needs in the various sections of the district. The need of a new high school also interested the whole district.

"Great credit is due to the Parent-Teacher organizations and the Chamber of Commerce, who were untiring in their efforts to get information to the public regarding the needs of the district.

"We are also very grateful to the newspapers of the district on account of the fine publicity which they gave the bonds.

"The passage of these bonds means much to Richmond and the surrounding community and is one of the indications of the great progressive spirit which is building our community."

TREATED FOR FIGHT BRUISES

MARTINEZ, Oct. 6.—Rafael Padella, highway laborer, received treatment at the county hospital yesterday for bruises and contusions received in a fist fight with M. Gomez, another laborer. The latter is held in the county jail.

Gomez claimed that Padella was intoxicated and provoked the battle at the construction camp at Rodeo where they are employed. They were brought to Martinez by F. Wilson, deputy sheriff and Rodeo garage owner.

Appreciation Is Expressed By H. A. Johnston

Appreciation of the support given the high school bond issue of $885,000, was expressed last night by H. A. Johnston, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Citizens Committee, which carried on an active campaign for the bonds. The following statement was issued last night by Johnston when it was certain that the bonds had been carried:

"Richmond and the surrounding community has given a positive answer to the question of school improvement. This in itself without going into the various other benefits that will be derived by the entire community, is enough to justify the work which the citizens committee has been carrying on for the past few weeks in calling to the attention of the voters the necessity of these bonds. Adequate funds are now in the hands of both the grammar school and high school district, so that we need not worry about the school question for some time to come.

As chairman of the citizens committee and president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, I wish to express my appreciation to all those speakers and others who worked so faithfully in calling to the attention of the voters the need of this bond issue.

"Practically every civic and improvement organization in the district has stamped the bond issue with approval and this is largely due to the speakers, who appeared before these organizations and outlined to them the complete facts as they exist in our schools.

Again I wish to express my appreciation to all those who assisted the citizens committee in their work for the bonds.

DAUGHTER AT DUNKLEYS

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dunkley, 660 Tenth street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter, which was born yesterday morning in Richmond Maternity hospital.

SCHOOL BOARD THANKS THOSE WHO ASSISTED

The following statement was issued last night by the high school board, following a count of the votes which indicated that the bonds had carried:

"The urgent need of additional school facilities both in the high school and grammar schools which will also benefit from this issue are without a question the answer to the successful vote for the bonds.

"This money will give this district an opportunity to keep up the high standard of education which this board has always tried to maintain. "Citizens of this district who have devoted a great deal of effort and time toward getting the facts before the public, can well feel proud of their achievement. They will be more than repaid within the next few years in the additional school facilities which will be offered.

"We feel that an appreciation is due to the Chamber of Commerce, the various Parent-Teachers' Associations and the numerous other organizations who not only endorsed the bonds, but devoted a great deal of time and effort toward acquainting the voters of this district with the nature and need of the bonds.

KILLED COMMON-LAW WIFE

May Be Sentenced From Ten Years to Life On Jury Finding

Joe Marcado, Selby Smelter worker, and murderer of his common-law wife, Frances Zamora at Crockett on last August 17, escaped the hangman's noose, but faces a sentence of from 10 years to life imprisonment. He was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury of twelve men in the court of Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado yesterday. After five days trial the case was given to the jury at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the verdict was returned after six hours deliberation. The sentence for second degree murder under the laws of the state of California is ten years to life in prison.

Marcado killed Frances Zamora in a jealous rage in their Crockett home last August, when he accused her of intimacy with other men. They had been living together for eleven years and had several children.

He then made a break for freedom and reached Kennett, California, where he was arrested by a posse of Shasta county officers working from Redding. He admitted his guilt at the time, but when on the witness stand his attorneys T. D. Johnston and H. M. Bishop endeavored to prove that he was temporarily insane at the time of the shooting.

The five day trial was marked with frequent clashes between Dep-

REACTION AGAINST PATERNALISM

Already a strong reaction against paternalism, over-government and special legislation in favor of minority groups is beginning to set in. Foremost among the defenders of American liberties against encroachments of this character is the president himself.

Mr. Coolidge is doing all that in him lies to preserve the constitution and its guaranties, and to administer and mould the government in accordance with their spirit. He has shown by his speeches that he is alert to the growing danger of overcentralized government, which is not the least perplexing problem that has fallen on his shoulders. In his actions he has consistently combated this tendency, when occasion offered.

He would have more powers remain with the states, and less variegated responsibility thrust upon the federal government. He would keep the constitution the broad frame of government, unsullied by detailed restriction, that it was originally intended to be. Quickly and unostentatiously he is fighting a battle to preserve the old immunities of the people. History will not fail to rank this high among his achievements.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FAST AGE; MORE YEARS

Reflecting on the fastness with which time flies, and particularly on the sunset slope of life, there has been plenty of comfort in the few years in the reports of new marks in longevity. Centenarians have become comparatively common and men of 50 are spoken of as young. Now comes an officer of the American Insurance union with the statement that the span of human life has been lengthened four years in the last quarter century, and that within another generation "the allotted three score years and ten will be a thing of the past." And this in spite of the extra hazards which have come with twentieth century progress!

There need be no surprise in it. The fastness principally is in machinery; instead of suffering from the wear and tear of it, humanity, lolling in the parlor cars or floating palaces setting new speed marks, tends rather to indolence. Advances in the science of guarding health now effect rescues where formerly death was regarded as certain. At no time did manhood ever show greater hardness than in the World war. An increase in longevity is to be expected naturally.

Besides, the people of the future may look back upon our age as slow as we do upon the period of only half a century back.

AIR SERVICE

The country is interested but not so vitally attentive to the air service investigation as it ought to be. In a land dominated by popular opinion, it would be well for wider information on matters of national defense and deeper interest among those who, in times of stress, will force action.

People of Prescott may think that air service and national defense concern them but lightly, but they are wrong.

The new tactics of war expunge coastlines and borders. The frontier of a nation in these days and the days to come will be found in the form of a plane at some definite altitude above ground level and not in the form of an irregular line at some distance from the center of the country.

Prescott is no more protected by its mountains and isolation from the coast or the border, than Nogales or Los Angeles.—Journal Miner.

Uncle Sam is trying to find a way to make money last longer, but not in the same way we are—Des Moines Register.

One way to live to a ripe old age is to avoid being so infernally rotten while young.

THE LITERARY CRICKET

DRESS By MARY MARSHALL

Consider the Cape for Your Cold Weather Wrap—for it Has Been Revived by Distinguished Dressmakers.

Early in the summer capes were tentatively offered, as the fashion reporters put it. The dressmakers laid them before their customers as it were, without comment. Their clients might or might not accept them. But there they were, short capes, and long capes, single and double scant capes and great copious circular capes, the loveliest capes that women have ever been tempted with.

The capes that most of us remember—the capes that were part of the wartime fashion—were quite different. It was generally understood that then capes came into fashion because they were so easily put together—they could be made by the women at home in the dressmaking shops, whence the men tailors with their expert knack of fitting and making coats had fled for the field of war. Now there is nothing economical or time-saving about these new capes. They are gorgeously trimmed or finished.

So far capes for evening seem to have been accepted and capes for afternoon are still weighing in the balance. It may be that with spring or at any rate another autumn a real cape revival will be in full swing. The cape ensemble is one of the interesting developments of the autumn. Many of the prominent dressmakers offer wraps for every dress they put out—and often these are capes. If you have set your heart on the frock—then apparently you must take the wrap—cape or coat—that goes with it.

Evening capes seem always to be of regal splendor with velvets, metal fabrics, laces, furs and rich embroidery used in prodigious abundance. Then there are capes made to go with some of the new street frocks that are brisk little affairs with something quite military about them. There are interesting tweed capes for travel—garments which are usually called coat-capes or cape-coats, because you cannot tell for the life of you to which classification they really belong.

An interesting cape from Bechoff of Paris is made of brown tweed lined with bands of fur. There are all-fur capes, distinctive and, of course, unusual. One type of cape that has been spoken of quite a bit, one that was shown by Drescol, and perhaps by others is on Spanish lines. An enormous amount of material goes into the making of one of these garments.

WISE AND OTHERWISE By MARY MARSHALL

READY FOR THE RAINY DAY

FASHIONABLE French women have been carrying Scotch plaid umbrellas on rainy days of late. Some of them have rather wide green borders, and not until the rain actually descends and the umbrella is raised that the full glory of the royal Stuart tartan is revealed. These plaid silk umbrellas made with wooden handles of appropriate colors are to be had in this country.

The story came to light the other day of a man who had made a wager some fifteen or twenty years ago that he would continue to carry the same umbrella every day for a certain length of time. And he had carried the umbrella ever since, and of course won his wager. To be sure, it had been re-covered from time to time—but this did not invalidate the winning of the wager. Well, that is the way we all looked at umbrellas, once upon a time, things that we might go on carrying so long as we did not lose them. We never thought of discarding one just because it was out of style. Now, however, there are fashions in umbrellas just as much as in hats. This autumn there are some new fashions of interest. For instance there are the new billiard ball umbrellas—difficult to keep track of because they have no strap and must be held by holding the slippery little billiard ball in the hand.

Boil some water in a deep frying-pan, add salt to taste, and allow to each pint of water, 1 tablespoon of vinegar. Break the egg into a cup taking care to keep the yolk whole, and when the water boils, remove the pan to the side of the fire, and gently slip the egg into it, and simmer gently until the white is set.

Tomato Jelly Salad: A can of tomatoes, a bay leaf, one teaspoonful of brown sugar, a pinch of allspice and ground nutmeg, half a chopped onion, a half-teaspoonful of salt, and a little water if it becomes too thick, and strain through a sieve. Stir into each pint of liquid a tablespoon of gelatin that has been dissolved in half a cup of hot water; turn into small molds, and when cold and firm, turn out in nests of crisp lettuce leaves, add mayonnaise.

Apples with Custard Sauce: Pare and core 6 apples, keeping them whole; roll up an apple paring tightly, and place it in the center of each apple. Put them in a deep baking-dish barely cover the bottom of the dish with cold water, place on the top an inverted pie-dish to keep in the steam, and bake gently until tender. Lift carefully on to a hot dish, remove the apple parings, fill the cavity with jam and serve with custard sauce.

The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted By DOROTHY A.F. MARCELL

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich in a spectacularization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Eileen Manning has been visiting her son, Bob, at the jail. Bob is accused of manslaughter, having been in a car that crashed into another, killing a woman. In leaving she meets her husband, John Manning, from whom she is temporarily estranged, because, as District Attorney, he insists upon prosecuting his own son. Then she meets Jerome Wallace, John's opponent in the election. "I see what the office would enable me to do for you and your son," Wallace tells her.

Eileen turned, and this time not to betray her feelings. Into her mind leaped the remembrance of John with his resolute: "I am District Attorney. I will do my duty." It was an unpleasant memory fading before a later and fresher one. John, with his arms full of packages for Bob. He must have bought a sample of every brand of cigarettes in the world to be certain that he had not overlooked his son's favorite.

A queer picture that last compared to the first, thought Eileen, and it enabled her to get a grip on herself. Yet very much kinder was she now to Wallace. "When he held out his hand to say goodbye she took it.

And not slow to take advantage of the privilege, he held it as he went on to say:

"So far as you are concerned, you are in a most advantageous position. No matter which way the election goes your son's freedom is assured. You know he is safe if Manning remains in office, and should I be elected I pledge you my support."

As the car rolled away he coolly waved a parting salutation.

And when her face lighted before his words with a joy she could not conceal Wallace still clung to her hand and even gave it ever so light a reassuring squeeze that through no possible mistake could she be unaware of his loyal friendship.

Thus they were when John Manning came forth from the jail and moved towards them. Careless at first, he displayed real surprise when he recognized Eileen's companion.

Yet Wallace awaited him with the utmost composure, greeting him with a friendliness which bordered upon effusiveness.

John, it must be said, was rather cold. Having cast a fateful glance at his wife, he regarded Wallace rather curiously before climbing into the car with a curt nod.

Unabashed, Wallace waited upon the sidewalk as if to watch the departure of two very dear friends. And as the car rolled away he coolly waved a parting salutation to Eileen and cried in meaning tones, "Remember."

Having thus expressed himself, he watched the car disappear around a corner before he went his way. And it may be said as a curious matter of interest that in discussing the election with Slick Jennings later in the day Wallace expressed high hopes of his election. But this undoubtedly was due rather to an overwhelming confidence in the astuteness and transcendent abilities of his manager than to any other cause.

CHAPTER VIII

Outside of the incident of the Hiss, it had been years since Eileen had given a thought to Wallace. She had never taken their youthful friendship seriously. A certain mystery, a hint of dark and unfathomed depths about him had claimed her girlish fancy for the moment. But it had been no more than a passing affair, disregarded with the development of her all pervading love for John Manning and the swift rush of busy, contented years which had followed. True, rumors not at all complimentary to the man had circulated freely in the circles in which she moved, but in the fullness of her own happy life Eileen had not listened to gossip.

Now, however, intent with all the resolution of her nature upon helping Bob, her meeting with Wallace, regardless of first impressions, had re-established him in her mind in a most favorable guise. Apparently through all these years she had neglected a very real friendship. A spontaneous, unselfish and generous friendship, which, careless of indifference, could bring Wallace to her side with the tender of his kind offices in the very hour of her need. Thus it was that, as she drove away from the jail at her husband's side, Wallace occupied her thoughts with a completeness which spoke volumes for that gentleman's suave skill with the opposite sex.

As she reviewed their meeting she recalled, with uplifted hope, that his had been no offer of assistance, so general in its nature as to be obviously nothing more than a polite subterfuge. It had been an outspoken promise, a definite pledge without limitation or condition, seemingly leaping from a heart overflowing with sympathy to help her, or rather to protect the freedom of her son, which to her mind was the same thing. But hold. There had been a condition. True, not one subject to his control, but a condition nevertheless, and one of such vital importance that unfulfilled all else would be of little value. Wallace must be elected District Attorney. His election was the very gist of the matter. Wallace elected and Bob would go free. It was all very simple, but—

Eileen stole a glance at the big figure beside her in the car, at John Manning's fine face as his gaze rested unwaveringly upon the street ahead.

John must be defeated. There was no middle course.

From the recesses of her heart that was small voice raised its protest. John was her husband. At the altar of God she had pledged him her troth. The very vows of the marriage service seemed to echo in her ears as her eyes dropped to the ring upon her finger. "For better—for worse."

The loyalty of years, the common hopes and ambitions of their married years registered prompt objection, while her own pride in his accomplishments joined the objecting chorus. To her John's success had been a marvelous thing. She had watched him climb through the years with but a vague appreciation of the mighty part her own gentle devotion and encouragement had played, but still sensing with satisfaction a complete partnership in it all, she had striven to worthily fulfill, as the mistress of his household, the added social duties accruing to herself. Proud, indeed, had she been to be the wife of the District Attorney and with him, had come to regard his re-election not so much from any desire to retain the office, but rather as a test. A justification of the policies he had inaugurated, an approval by the people of high ideals for which he had long struggled.

Even as Eileen watched her husband she realized with a tremor of fear that should John Manning fail of re-election it would mean more than defeat. Rather would it be a crushing blow delivered at the very pedestal of his lifelong endeavor. One which would shake, if not shatter, the closest to his heart and ruin the futile years of his tireless labors.

In that instant a great thankfulness for John asserted itself in Eileen's heart only to die before thoughts of Bob and the glowing jail, of the jingling keys, clanking locks and clanging doors, all sounding a note in that symphony of woe and loss of freedom which must beat continually upon the consciousness of her son. Motherhood claimed Eileen to the exclusion of all else. Her boy must be gotten out of that prison at any price, at any cost.

C. C. Opposes Golden Gate Ferry Permit

The hearing on the application of the Golden Gate Ferry company for a franchise to operate an automobile ferry from Berkeley to San Francisco, opened yesterday before the State Railroad Commission in Oakland. Attorneys and chamber of commerce representatives from all the bay cities were present at the hearing.

The ferry company presented a petition containing over 27,000 signatures asking for a ferry. Attorney H. C. Booth, representing the Southern Pacific, attacked this petition, asking how such a large petition, which was secured in but four days could be an intelligent expression of public opinion.

Although the ferry company has both San Francisco and Berkeley franchises, it must secure a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the commission before it can put the proposed ferry into operation.

The representatives of the company explained that it intends to operate on a 20-minute schedule, and charge 75 cents for trapshooting auto transportation.

Attorney T. H. DeLap, representing the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, appeared in opposition to the application.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT
Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction, often at a very rapid rate, and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of your superfluous fat.

If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

Building Record Established In September Here

Seventy-one new buildings were started in Richmond during the month of September, recording one of the largest building gains in the history of the city, according to a report on the applications for new water service made public by the East Bay Water company yesterday.

Building estimates are based on new service as each service indicates that a new building of some sort has been started, officials of the water company stating that water must be on the ground before work can start.

With 71 new buildings started, Richmond showed a gain of 54 per cent over the same month a year ago, when but 46 new structures were started.

In addition to the new building, Richmond drew new people from two states and eleven California cities, the report shows. The states include Idaho and Texas and among the cities, were such representative towns as Santa Clara, San Jose, Santa Rosa, Long Beach, Chico, Modesto and others.

Doctors Have Narrow Escape While Hunting

When their boat was overturned in a collision with a barge in the narrow Del straits above Pittsburg Sunday, trapping them between the barge and the precipitous bank, Dr. W. E. Cunningham, Richmond physician, and his son, Jack Cunningham, miraculously escaped without injury.

As the huge craft swung into the bank, Dr. Cunningham managed to cling within a crevice, while his son swam for the end of the boat and escaped, just an instant before the stern crashed against the wall.

The Cunningham and C. E. Arnold, of the LaMoine Drug company, were on a duck hunt at the time. They had set out after dark to place their decoys and were confronted by the barge in the straits. The barge was reversed to avoid running down Arnold and this resulted in the Cunningham crash.

ACCIDENT RATE ON RAILROADS LOW, INDICATED

The American railroads have earned the right to be considered authorities upon the matter of safe operation. During the year 1924 there were only 149 fatalities among the 931,000,000 persons carried, or one fatality for every 6,314,000 persons carried safely. This result reflects the intelligent and persistent efforts of railroad officials to operate their properties safely and indicates that in railroad parlance safety is far more than a mere phrase.

There are over 18,000,000 passenger and commercial automobiles using our highways today, with approximately 16,000 fatalities and 450,000 injuries per year. That there is gross incompetence and reckless operation of automobiles upon our highways is beyond question. We can well afford to most seriously consider and apply the American Railway Association's grade crossing slogan—"CROSS CROSSING CAUTIOUSLY." Caution at railroad crossings will benefit caution elsewhere. Those who will not voluntarily be cautious should be driven from the highway.

Six Hours Of Deliberation Are Required

County District Attorney James F. Hoey and the defense counsels Hoey scoffed the defense plea of insanity, declaring that it was offered when no other avenue of escape was open to the defendant.

In turn the prosecution was scored for alleged methods of obtaining the confession from Marcado and presented further pleas to back up the insanity defense. Marcado, Johnston asserted, had his mind temporarily unbalanced by the alleged actions of Mrs. Zamora with Marcado's brother and her unconcerned for the welfare of their children.

However, the jury was of the belief that Marcado was not insane when he took the life of his common-law wife, and returned a verdict that will put Joe Marcado behind the walls of San Quentin penitentiary for at least ten years.

Registration Of School Children Is Now Under Way

Statistics have been sent to parents relative to the necessity of registering children between the ages of 3 years and 18 years of age, whether in attendance at the elementary schools, Junior high or Senior high schools. This must be done every year in order to comply with the State law. Teachers in the elementary schools will register these children during the week of October 5 to 10, inclusive, and parents may call at the school nearest to their residence during the following hours:

8 to 9 a. m. 12 to 1:30 p. m. 2:15 to 3:50 p. m. Saturday, October 10—9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

According to the law, the parent must come to the school house and the school department will greatly appreciate a hundred per cent response to this request as a complete registration is valuable not only to the school department, but to all phases of business in the City of Richmond.

QUESTION OF GARAGE STILL IS UNDECIDED

The proposition of what to do with a petition when people want it and at the same time do not want it, is now puzzling the city planning commission.

Ward McKenney, a war veteran, is desirous of erecting a garage on Fourteenth street, between Macdonald and Bissell avenues. Mrs. Emma Dorstewitz put a petition into circulation protesting against the granting of the garage permit by the city council on grounds that the smoke and noise would be unpleasant for the people residing in the Dorstewitz apartments, adjacent to which McKenney proposes to build the garage. McKenney immediately circulates a counter-petition. Both were submitted to the planning commission, but that body found that some of the names that appeared on Mrs. Dorstewitz's petition also appeared on McKenney's.

The planning commission was forced to table the application until next Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when the commission will meet in the Lincoln school. The puzzling petitions will be considered in the interim.

Salary of Production Director Equals That of Chief Executive

When Marco Wolf was 8 years old, a penny looked as big as a pie plate, well, he figured a dollar was too big for a kid of his size to carry, even had he been given clear title to one.

Today Marco walks up to the paymaster's window in the huge office of West Coast Theatres, Inc., in Los Angeles every week and cashes a check for just about as much as Secretary Mellon sends around to the so-called silent man of the White House on the first of each month.

Marco signed a contract recently whereby he will direct production during the next three years, of all special attractions staged in the 120 houses controlled by West Coast Theatres, Inc.

His last name never bothered Marco much. Wolf? Who's he? Marco? Oh yes, "Fanchon and Marco," that him? Yeah, that's him.

At 8 Marco was selling papers. Whenever he was given an extra penny, Marco did a few kid dance steps on the sidewalk. Another boy in Marco's gang had hopes of becoming an actor. Marco did a few more steps—why not? Didn't actors make a lot of money? They did.

"I'll be an actor myself," decided Marco. He told his sister Fanchon, and she made the same decision. Fanchon and Marco staged their first number on the linoleum in front of the kitchen stove. They admitted they were good. So did the neighbors. Soon Fanchon and Marco were doing dancing turns in little theatres. Then they landed a vaudeville contract.

The west looked good to them. For a time they ran a dance club in San Francisco. Then they toured the Antipodes. San Francisco again. Marco had a "hunch"—he'd turn producer. "Sunkist" was the result, a musical comedy that wound up on Broadway and, incidentally, was the one and only musical which ever came out of the west and made good on the famous "great white way" of New York. Marco decided he was a born producer of musical comedies. He organized a new company. It started out strong but ended in a flop.

In show business there had always been a custom, "when you're broke—you're broke—and that's all there is to it." But not with Marco; he paid his debts. It took a little time but Marco finally cleaned the slate.

He worked for a time at the Palace Hotel as assistant manager of social service. Then another dip into theatricals—at the Casino. Then he turned to the movies. He started way down on Market Street in San Francisco and worked up. Finally Lowe's Warfield.

It had just been taken over by West Coast Theatres, Inc., A. M. Bowles, now general manager of the big circuit, then running the Warfield, and the other nineteen houses of what was called "the northern division of West Coast Theatres, Inc."

"What we need is something different—something new," said Bowles. "Fix up a new kind of revue number," Bowles told Marco.

Marco produced a stage revue as different from the theme of the picture as night from day.

"Fine," shouted the public. "Some more of the same, please."

That was in October, 1923—the first of the "Fanchon and Marco Ideas" that now are being shown in scores of theatres and have been copied by scores of others in the middle west and east.

While Marco had made a name for himself, he also had taken time to put other names in the electric, Marco dug for talent—here, there and everywhere. A girl who had a face and a figure with BRAINS in her pretty head could always get a job with Marco. First as a chorus girl and then, when the brains started to show, doing a little specialty number. Edna Covey of Ziegfeld's "Follies"—she used to be a Mission district girl; Marco placed her first in the chorus at the Warfield. Paul Ash—he was conducting a dance orchestra in Oakland when Marco made him musical director of "Sunkist" Vanessi, a raging Broadway beauty, she was behind a ribbon counter in a Market Street department store until Marco came along and figured with her figure she could get farther behind the footlights.

And Fanchon? She's been just as busy as brother Marco since the old vaudeville team disbanded. Fanchon is in Hollywood. Whenever you see a theatre or cafe sequence in a big movie, it's a safe bet that Fanchon staged it. All the big studios call on Fanchon, she is the vogue in Hollywood. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and First National pictures, having the lead. The stage presentations at Sid Grauman's Egyptian Theatre in Los Angeles—some more of Fanchon's work. And her most recent successful production was the prologue at the premiere of Charles Chaplin's latest funfest, "The Gold Rush."

WEST POINT IS BACKGROUND FOR RICHMOND FILM

"Classmates" the First National production starring Richard Barthelmess at the Richmond theatre, presents West Point for the first time on any screen as the background of a silent drama.

The United States Military Academy has been filmed for the news reels. The famous parades of the West Point cadets, pronounced the best drilled body of men in the world, have evoked cheers in the theatres throughout both hemispheres. The Military Academy officials, however, have always refused to permit the use of the West Point cadets for a photoplay story. They felt that the Academy, sacred to the finest traditions of America, must be held as a thing apart.

That permission was accorded to Barthelmess to film "Classmates" within the walls of West Point was an unusual and signal honor to the young star. "Classmates" shows the actual life of a cadet through his four years at the Academy. The West Point officials supervised every detail even to making of uniforms for Barthelmess and his company, so that "Classmates" is completely authentic.

The production carries the official endorsement of Brigadier General Frederick Sladen, superintendent of West Point, and the officials of the Academy. Incidentally, in presenting the life of a West Pointer, "Classmates" reveals a remarkable study of the development of a shy country boy into a man of force and character.

Other features include "Mysterious Mystery" an "Our Gang" comedy, "Prizma" the screen magazine.

U.S. Government Furnishes Local Color for Film

A photoplay in which the U. S. Government itself took an active part—furnishing backgrounds, local color and supervision, is "The Midshipman," Ramon Novarro's first Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle which will be on view at the California theatre today and tomorrow.

"The Midshipman" is a story of life in the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Uncle Sam's training grounds for future Perrys and Paul Joneses.

The story, written especially for the screen by the noted scenario writer and weaver of film tales, Carey Wilson, is a pure and simple romantic drama. It is chock-full of incident, the kind that commands the attention of all movie-goers. There are fights, dress parades, college initiations, pursuits on high seas with U. S. destroyers as the pursuers and surprises and thrills galore. There is also a shot of the graduation exercises at which President Coolidge presided.

The supporting cast includes many players of known ability. There are

BIG GAME SATURDAY

The Olympic club will furnish the first real competition for the California Bears, when they tangle at Berkeley next Saturday. At least, that is what Andy Smith thinks. The first two games merely served to warm up the varsity. But now comes the "crucial test." It is ex-pected to make the Bruins show all the stuff they have.

WARNER AT END

PALO ALTO, Oct. 6.—Glenn War-ner continued his policy of whole-sale slashes in the personnel of his football team today. The most sig-nificant was the change which put Ed Walker in at right end in place of Price, Moore and Greisner. He is strong on the defensive and good in taking the opposing backs out. He is steady and consistent although not overly fast.

MADIGAN'S MEN INJURED

Coach Ed Madigan's strident voice could be heard yesterday denouncing the fates that causes injuries in foot-ball games. He drove his team to the utmost and severely upbraided his backs when they gained ten yards through the line and not twenty. The loss of Jack Scarlett, speedy but broken legged right end, worked a great hardship on ship.

$500,000 TURNED AWAY

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—It was dis-closed by Pittsburgh today that $500,-000 had been returned on tickets for the world series. More than 200,000 applications for seats were rejected—more than five times the capacity of Forbes field. Indications point to a third successive million dollar series.

SEALS NEED FOUR

With 14 games to go, the San Fran-cisco Seals of the Pacific Coast baseball league needs only four vic-tories to win the pennant. All four-teen will be played at Recreation park so the winner is almost clinched. The Seals need only an equal amount to clinch second place and they have one chance in about a hundred million to beat San Francisco.

PSYCHOLOGY DOES IT

PALO ALTO, Oct. 6.—Under the spreading palm and the drooping eucalyptus tree Pop Warner, Andy Kerr and Tiny Thornhill sit and talk of psychology. Warner avers the old psychology did the dirty work of the Olympic game. He glanced at the clubmen and considered them not a snap of his fingers. His gang caught his spirit and went flat-footed and flat-minded.

Explosion Kills One, Maims Another

One man was killed outright and another probably fatally injured when an explosion occurred at noon yes-terday at the Trojan powder works at San Lorenzo. The man was iden-tified some time after the blast as J. Roin, mixer.

Three buildings were destroyed in a fire which preceded the explo-sion. Vain efforts were made to keep the flames under control and they finally spread to the mixing mill. The workmen in the casualty list are said to have been engaged at the powder chum when the explo-sion occurred.

ANNUAL LION-ROTARY GAME NEXT FRIDAY

"Am I My Brother's Keeper?" Bert Carter thinks not. Harley Carter thinks not. At least as far as baseball is concerned, for they are captains of the Lions club and Rotary club baseball teams, respec-tively, and the two teams are to clash at First street ball park on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in their annual game.

Both teams have been out working strenuously all this week and part of last wiping out the surplus aver-drops and hardening the muscle. Doc Seawright, veteran of many a knock-down and drag-out ball game has been availed upon to officiate. He has been provided with masks, helmets, padding and other protec-tive armor in order that his exterior portions will be immune from harm. Wilbur Pierce, Lion, and Ed Hill, Rotarian, will oppose each other in the box as will Les Thomas, Lion, and Lud Johnson, Rotarian, behind the log.

Bert's remaining standbys will be himself, Zeb Knott, Al Furrer, Em-mit Smyth, Fred Candler, By Bates, Johnny Miller, Eddie Burg, Walter Willis, Tsar Caltee. Harley will use besides his bat-tery and himself, Bob Mills, Fred LaMoine, Seward Merry, George Rooker, Al Hill, Percy Sanford, Bill Chappin and Jimmie Long.

The proceeds obtained from ticket sales will go to the Richmond Y. M. C. A. which is now conducting a drive for $12,000 to carry on the association work in this city. Tick-ets will be sold by all members of the Rotary and Lions clubs and by groups of members of the Y. M. C. A.

Doc Seawright will call the game promptly at 2:30 o'clock. Fire Chief Willie Cooper Lion, will leave the first ball, and Police Chief Dan-nie Cox will catch it (?).

President In Bold Attack At Convention

raise either racial or creed distinc-tions. While not identifying the Klan by name he laid down a barrage of powerful invective against religious and racial intolerants that swept the convention by storm, with the Klan particularly in all minds. He declared that when the nation was in danger and the citizens were called to the colors no distinction was made as to whether they came from Mayflower stock or from the many ethnological strains of Europe, whether they worshipped in one par-ticular church or at another altar all were genuine Americans.

He restated, in simple, strong, in-cisive words, the spirit of American institutions as set forth by the found-ers, the complete separation of church and state. "No man's patriotism" he said with apparent deliberation, and his hand raised to emphasize the earnestness of his thought, "was impugned or service questioned because of his racial origin, his political opinion or his religious convictions." "Immigrants and sons of immigrants from the central European countries fought side by side with those who descended from the countries which allies; with the sons of equatorial

Highlights Of World Series

Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania will toss out the first ball.

Honus Wagner, famous short-stop of the Pirates when they won their last National League pennant and captured the world's series in 1909, has given up politics for journalism, temporarily and will write news paper articles for the series.

INSANITY CHARGE FILED BY JAILER

MARTINEZ, Oct. 6.—Declaring that his prisoner always greeted him at his cell door, by getting down on his knees and making salaams of re-spect, County Jailer S. J. Nielsen yes-terday petitioned a charge of insan-ity against Juan Chaves, 31, Rich-mond laborer, serving a sentence of 60 days in the county jail for dis-turbing the peace.

When hailed before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie and the county lunacy commission, Chaves said: "Certainly, I do that. In my coun-try I was taught to respect my superiors. They all should do it. I'm not crazy."

Judge McKenzie directed that Chaves be kept under observation.

Ripley Appointed Contact Officer For This District

S. B. Ripley was last night appointed contact officer of Honor Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars for this region. The appointment was made at the request of Major F. A. Royce of the Veterans bureau in San Francisco. It will be Ripley's duties to get in touch with the veterans about whom Royce seeks information. Also veterans of the post may obtain information about any other veteran they know.

The committee of the post composed of William Jones, Raymond Reed and George Ford will meet on November 6 at Martinez with the Sidney Severin Post concerning the formation of a county council.

The degree team worked for the first time last night. It was merely a practice drill but the team showed remarkable ability and it is expected that in future initiations will be exemplified with the highest degree of efficiency.

A number of members will attend the Golden State ball to be given at the Paradise ball room, Twelfth and Oak streets, Oakland, by the Alameda county council, it was announced at the meeting. The post will also send a delegation to the American Institute, banquet, program and dance on the evening of October 16, at the institute's hall at 568 Eighteenth street, Oakland. The American Institute handles Americanization work in Oakland.

REV. GRANT TO BE GIVEN BIG RECEPTION FRI.

Final plans for the reception to be given in honor of Rev. W. P. Grant, pastor of the First Methodist church on Friday evening, October 9, were made by the Social League of the church at a business meeting yesterday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. Maurice Dickey presided over the session.

The reception will be held in the church parlors and will include a program and the serving of refreshments. Rev. Grant was returned to the First Methodist church for another year at the recent M. E. conference meeting.

A program rendered at yesterday's gathering included recitations by Velma Jane Diller. Refreshments were served, with Mrs. Maurice Dickey and Mrs. Lloyd Diller acting as hostesses. Guessing games were indulged in during the afternoon, with high honors going to Mrs. J. Mythan.

Mrs. C. E. Adams and Mrs. J. B. Vloebergs will be hostesses at the next business meeting, which is scheduled for Tuesday, October 20, at the church.

El Cerrito Must Act At Once On Garbage Question

That the board of trustees of El Cerrito will have to take immediate action for the disposal of garbage became evident Monday night when the trustees received a letter from the Stego-Sanitary Board notifying them that no garbage will be allowed to be dumped in the swamp in the Richmond Annex district after the 8th of October.

The trustees are waiting for an answer from the Richmond Garbage men as to whether they handle the El Cerrito refuse, so no action will be taken until next Monday.

To Have Signs
Acting on a request of the El Cerrito Improvement Association the board instructed the clerk to order three signs with the word "El Cerrito" from the California Automobile Association. The signs will be placed at the Alameda Contra Costa county line, one at Cutting boulevard and one San Pablo avenue at the northern city limits.

Overrun Claim Allowed
The claim of Carl Overa of $2,339.25 as part of the amount due on the contract for the new fire house was allowed by the board.

Abatement Planned
The matter of the abating the Northern Paving Company plant as a nuisance is in the hands of the district attorneys office which will make an investigation this week.

Speed of 45 Miles Per Hour Charged

M. J. Tongeca, of Benicia, was arrested by Traffic Officer E. E. Cheek and taken into Justice John Roth's court yesterday afternoon on a charge of traveling at the rate of 45 miles per hour and operating an automobile without a driver's license.

A fine of $25 was imposed, and paid but only after the defendant had objected strongly, declaring that he had just neglected to bring his license while in a rush, and averred that his speedometer only registered 42 miles per hour instead of 45, charged by Cheek.

POSTAL THIEF IS AGAIN BUSY

MARTINEZ, Oct. 6.—Contra Costa's letter thief is busy again. Looting of the Bank of Martinez letter box in the Martinez post office for the second time and another robbery at the Antioch post office, were bared here yesterday following arrival of a postal inspector from San Francisco to question a suspect.

It is said that suspicion was directed to a Concord resident, following the looting of postal boxes in the Concord postoffice, at which time a diamond ring, addressed to a Concord jeweler was secured. The ring is said to have been later submitted to the jeweler for an estimate of its value.

The letter box of the Bank of Martinez was rifled again Sunday night. It is believed that the letter thief is the same one who looted boxes in the Martinez, Antioch, Concord and Point Richmond post office in the last several weeks.

Bond Issue Carries By Big Majority

Primarily this bond issue is for the construction of a new High School but $300,000 is to be paid to the elementary school district as a first payment on the Junior High School. The balance of $100,000 is to be paid in installments. A new law requires that all Junior High Schools be in the High School district.

With this $300,000 the elementary school district will start immediately to remodel and make additions to the following schools:

PERES SCHOOL—New assembly hall and wing of about five rooms.
FAIRMONT SCHOOL—New assembly hall and wing of about five rooms.

EAST RICHMOND, MIRA VISTA—New school building of about six rooms to be wing of permanent building and to accommodate about 180 pupils now in this district. Two sites are available in this district one west of San Pablo avenue and one in Mira Vista. The site to be utilized first has not as yet been determined.

GRANT SCHOOL—Three rooms to be added at west wing.

KENSINGTON—Five rooms of permanent building to a wing of a larger structure to be erected later.

VILLA NOVA, BERKELEY PARK—Small school building of permanent types to be a wing of a larger school to be built when necessity arises. The site of this building has not as yet been determined.

PULLMAN SCHOOL—A small addition to accommodate kindergarten and other classes and an assembly room.

The remainder of the $885,000 is to be utilized in the erection of a modern high school building on a site already owned by the High School Board in the northern section of Richmond.

This will permit the use of the present High School building as an addition to the Junior addition to the Roosevelt Junior School which will relieve the congestion of that school, laid out by the board of education.

Cruelty Charged In Divorce Action

MARTINEZ, Oct. 6.—With cruelty as a ground for complaint, Mrs. Cordelia Ayers, 423 Fourteenth street, Richmond, today filed suit for divorce from Rulo Ayers. Clare D. Horner is representing the plaintiff.

The petition cites that the couple were married in 1911 and separated last September 3. There are two children, of 7 and 9 years of age. Plaintiff asks $60 per month for their support and $150 as attorneys fees.
